Winter band concert slated for Monday

by Lois Widme

The 28th annual winter band concert will be presented by the 67 member MSC Concert Band, directed by Mr. Arthur J. Nix, in the Campus School gymnasium, Monday, Jan. 25 at 8:15 a.m.

This is the first year that MSC has had two bands. The members of the concert band were selected by audition from the marching band because of their interest, ability, and desire to spend extra time in preparing to represent the school in concerts on campus and in surrounding cities. The varsity band has 43 members.

The versatility of the concert band is shown in the program they have selected. There is music for everyone ranging from symphonic band literature to the more modern or popular style. Featured on the program will be "Karellia-Suite, I Intermezzo" by Si-belius, "Die Nacht" by Strauss, "The Gillette Look Sharp March" by Mer-rick and "Serenade to Spring" by Rodgers and Hammerstein.

This year's band, according to Mr. Nix, is the strongest group that MSC has had in many years. Mr. Nix added that it shows great promise of becoming an excellent performing group and will represent the faculty and students of MSC with a high caliber of performances.

The band personnel includes:

Flutes: Mary Ann Oliphant, Lois Nybakken, Avis Magnusson, Mary Jane Nygaard, Kathy Monson, Henrietta Hannemann, Iretta Scott and Lorraine Hanson.

Clarinets: Nancy Bohach, Tom Grosland, Wanda Larson, Arlene Lunde, Laure Hertel, Linda Hertel,

Hoberg named new grid coach

by Dean Skallerud

Mr. Dwaine Hoberg has been named the new football coach at MSC beginning this fall. He is presently head coach at St. Louis Park High School where his teams have been contenders for the championship in the rugged lake conference during every season since he took over in 1953. Prior to his reign at St. Louis Park, Hoberg coached the Moorhead High School Spuds to two championships during his three years in Moorhead.

Acting athletic director, Mr. Larry MacLeod, expressed his enthusiasm with the appointment and spoke optimistically of the football team's future under Hoberg's direction.

A 1949 graduate of the University of Minnesota, Hoberg, lettered in football under Bernie Iberman. In 1950 he received his master's degree in physical education at the University and has done work towards the doctor's degree.

Hoberg stated, "I'll do everything within my power to develop winning football at Moorhead State. It may take a little time and alot of co-operation from my many friends in sports to accomplish this but I'm certain that it can be done."

The 33-year-old coach is well known throughout the state coaching circles, being instrumental in organizing and publishing the Football Journal, a publication issued quarterly for Minnesota high school football coaches. He is secretary of the 11-man division of the Minnesota State High School Football Coaches Association.

Hoberg is married and has three children. He is a veteran of World War II and is a member of the U.S. Naval Air Reserve. He said that he and his family will be looking forward to moving back to Moorhead.

Ballard council awards six grants

The Ballard Dormitory Council announced last week that six $50 scholarships will be awarded to residents of Ballard hall to be used this spring quarter. Of the six scholarships, two are going to men of each of the three classes; sophomore, junior, and senior.

A committee of three was chosen by the council president to print application forms. These forms will be placed in Ballard hall post office boxes. Deadline for making application is Monday, Feb. 15.

The scholarships can be used only for tuition payments in the coming spring quarter. They will be based on scholastic ability and financial need. Scholarship winners will be chosen by a scholarship committee and voted on by the council.

Group elects Neumaier Brotherhood Week head

President John J. Neumaier has been elected chairman of the Minnesota Brotherhood Week, Feb. 21-28. Chosen by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Dr. Neumaier says the theme of the week's observation in the state is fair political campaign practices.

Dr. Neumaier notes the "many positive achievements" toward better human relations made in this country and says, "I feel that more and more people tend to treat their fellow citizens on their merit rather than as members of the Jewish Faith, or as Negroes, or as members of any given nationality background."

"But," as the President says, "in view of the recurrent, overt signs of anti-Semitism, as symbolized by the defiling of houses of worship, it behooves all citizens to stand up to injustice against members of other racial, cultural and national backgrounds."

MSC prints brochures

A brochure concerning the language and literature department at MSC is being prepared and should be printed in two weeks, according to Dr. Clarence Glasrud, chairman of the department. The pamphlet is intended for recruiting purposes.

The brochure for the social studies department was completed in October, 1959, and in November the MSC art department completed their publicity brochure. "Next year we hope to have them for every department," said Dr. Glasrud.

Comment

Campaigning needed

What qualities are important in a student commissioner? This is a person who controls the students' activity money, who decides much of the school policy, who co-ordinates most school functions and who relays the students' wishes to the faculty and administration. A commissioner is elected by the student body and represents that same student body. He should therefore have the good of the MSC campus at heart and in mind when he takes office.

In the past the main campaigning device of candidates for the Commission has been a one or two paragraph statement of blank promises published in the MiStiC. The campaigner's promises or feelings have been published along with their past activities on the campus. Seldom have any real issues been brought out in these statements and seldom have they been debated in public. Not much is learned about the candidate's potential and ability to carry out the responsibilities of an office and position on the Commission.

"I've seen him at coffee more than any other of the candidates for that office so I'll vote for him," or "She sure is pretty. She's bound to make a good commissioner," is often the attitude the voters take when election time is at hand. The election is too easily turned into a popularity poll and an election based on organizational membership of the candidates.

An active campaign by Commission candidates would or at least should give the voting population a chance to take a look at Commission hopefuls before election day. A spirited soap box debate about the possibility of an activity fee raise, money problems and school spirit along with good publicity campaigns in the form of posters and other campaigning devices would give the voters a chance to see which candidates are really interested in commission and the college campus. Such a campaign would injure nothing but some student's apathy.

With a thinking and working Commission, campaign promises stand a better chance of becoming realities than they do with an "we'll do things the easy way" organization.

What's in a name?

A rose by any other name would smell as sweet; but it's still confusing to call a rose a pansy. Our college has been MSC since 1957 but is still prominently displayed as M.S.T.C. in such places as on the Lutheran Student Association house lawn sign. The quarterly registration blanks are for some unknown "State Teachers College" and a student applying for admission to a graduate school may be understandably disturbed to send his transcript of records on a form marked "State Teachers College," especially if he has a bachelor of arts degree.

President John J. Neumaier has taken action on this problem by writing letters to the Great Northern Railway Company requesting that their brochures refer to us as MSC. He has also written to the Northern Transit Company and telephone companies asking that our college name be brought up-to-date. Dr. Neumaier reports our college envelopes are now being changed and our new stationery will be marked MSC.

The President is to be thanked for this, and his action should prompt others to examine their papers and establishments for shades of M.S.T.C.

For the record

Lack of funds is a common reason for college dropouts. Financial difficulties of a different sort caused LorRayne Godfrey to leave MSC last week.

The 23-year-old Los Angeles native gave Minnesota state examiners a statement early last week admitting the embezzlement of about $14,000 from the St. Louis Park School District. Miss Godfrey pleaded guilty this week in Minneapolis district court.

Although Miss Godfrey was prominently described by area news media as an MSC freshman, the fact is she attended MSC less than three weeks. According to the registrar's office, her attendance was so spotty that she didn't even have her name on any instructor's seating chart.

Admittedly, notoriety by a coed is a good news angle. But to not qualify the statement that Miss Godfrey was an MSC freshman business major is like describing a man as a member of a football team just because he showed up for one practice.

Writer questions need for fraternities, sororities

To the editor:

Fraternities and sororities — what purpose do they serve to seemingly make them such an important part of college life? At first glance, this may look like a silly question, but as students attending a school with an enrollment of about 1,200, let's consider it anyway.

Loyal fraternity (and sorority) members may respond quickly by saying that their group acts as a home away from home by satisfying the basic needs of the student, the feeling of being wanted or loved, or being "one of the group." Others may say that brotherhood and fellowship is the important thing. And still others feel that through certain activities fraternities and sororities further the name of the school as well as their particular group. All this may or may not be so, but the question is, are fraternities necessary in order for these things to be fulfilled?

Other organizations such as Vets club, religious groups, Drama club, etc. have the same objectives. They not only hold their regular meetings and social functions, but with everybody in the group having at least one thing in common, i.e., art or acting, they are more integrated and therefore potentially stronger. Playing together on intramural teams is another example of student unity. Then, why the need for frats?

But, you may ask yourself, what would college be like without fraternities and sororities? Who would sponsor college activities or build the beautiful homecoming floats? Granted, most fraternities and sororities have more than their share of campus leaders and thus get things accomplished. Let's for the moment assume, however, that frats never existed. Wouldn't these same leaders devote their time to some other organization instead and it in turn sponsor such things as the Songfest?

As far as furthering the name of the school, fraternities and sororities play a very minor role compared to dramatics, athletics, and music. In fact, the only commendable thing I can remember reading about either a fraternity or sorority is when a sorority in Mississippi sponsored a winning Miss America candidate for two consecutive years. Of course, on the other hand, there are such incidents as the California frat that accidentally killed a student during initiation, and the innumerable campus uprisings led by frats, but we won't mention them.

High schools get along fine without fraternities and sororities. What, then, makes them so indispensable in colleges? Have they become such a fad that colleges aren't considered colleges without them? As far as I'm concerned, fraternities and sororities serve about the same purpose as the letter "C" in the alphabet — both could be discarded for the betterment of the school and language. They certainly wouldn't be missed.

Miller defends MSC

To the editor:

The letter signed "Tom Davis" in the Jan. 14 MiStiC is proof that the paper isn't censored. "Davis" is no piker; he indicts the faculty, the library, and the athletic program. Presumably the custodial services meet his approval, and he didn't mention the advisory program and the scheduling that made Mr. Femling so bitter.

He's quite right, there are a few faculty weaknesses. How fortunate there are no student weaknesses, and that all of ours are bright, conscientious, and sincere. The library is inadequate; that's why we're building a new one, why additional funds are sought from the state, and why we have a fine working relationship so Concordia and NDAC students can use our library and we can use theirs. It would be interesting to know what books he has needed and couldn't get.

He's right again, MSC does not overemphasize athletics. The administration has the quaint idea that the main purpose of a college is instruction and learning, that team members should be students who are interested in athletics, and that a no-win season is only that, not a disgrace.

Finally, he asks what criteria are used for accreditation. The NCA and the NCATE require a careful and exhaustive analysis of virtually every aspect of a college, by the college itself, with spotchecking by the special teams who visit the campus. Like people, colleges are never all good or all bad, and the balance of strengths vs. weaknesses determines the accreditation. Dr. Murray and Dr. Robbins would be glad to show Mr. "Davis" the questionnaires on which the MSC self-study reports were prepared, and will be glad for him to read the 120-page NCA report and the 130-page NCATE report, plus appendices. They represent more man-hours of work than "Davis" has probably lived.

The things that really irritate me about the letter are not the legitimate complaints, but the sweeping condemnation and the condescension. "Davis" appears to want the Harvard faculty (he wouldn't, if he saw them), the Library of Congress, and the Boston Celtics, all for $66 a quarter plus his subsidy from the taxpayers. It's too bad the college is so out of step with him.

Dr. J. W. Miller

GERRYMANDERING

by Gerri Sorben

Well, kiddies, here we go again — long distance no less. Seems someone requested a "news from the student teachers" routine, so we're glad to oblige. Don't blame the request on any of your friends — the letter wasn't signed. The news is from Mahnomen, Minn. and we'll try to insult as few local factions as possible and still maintain honesty and integrity.

Frosh, don't feel bad — the kiddies up here write themes too. Oh yes! "Ya," Tom sed, "lits fase it, it's ruff." This is what we refer to as a meaningful experience. Also in this category we find, "Hey teach, ya got a car?", "Hey teach, I got a bad headache this morning," and "Hey teach, who was dem guys ya was talkin to? In other words, the students up this way show great curiosity towards learning and have inquiring minds. Now you know what all these cute little phrases mean.

We really would like to have contacted you sooner but you just don't realize how undependable the pony express can be at times. Actually, things aren't as bad as we'd like them to seem. We just want sympathy. High school teaching is a wonderful career provided you've had a few judo courses and a thorough understanding of criminal psychology.

A not so wise man named Robert Service once wrote about just this sort of thing in a poem called, "The Call of the Wild." To quote him, so I won't be blamed for this sentiment,

"And tho' grim as hell the worst is,
Can you round it off with curses?"

Then hearken to the wild — it's wanting you."

Small group votes in favor of frats, sororities in debate

by Mary Colwell

A small audience of about 20 voted down the affirmative debaters, Janice Stromstad and Rodney Baker, in favor of the negative side, debated by Sheron Clark and Lowell Olson, on Monday evening when the two teams debated, "Resolved: That this house frowns upon the institution of fraternities and sororities." The affirmative side represented the debate society and the negative side represented MSC's social fraternities and sororities.

A lively question and answer cross-examination of the debaters and the audience by the audience after the formal debate revealed that not all questions and issues were brought out and answered during the debates.

Another debate on a question similar to this is being planned for a later debate, according to Mr. Gerald Ippolito, advisor to the debate society. Mr. Ippolito and the debate squad members are also planning debates and panels on world news and issues which affect college campuses. Other students will be asked to take part in these discussions.

A debate with Concordia College is planned for later this quarter. On Monday, Feb. 29, in Weld hall the MSC debate squad will meet two New Zealand debaters, who will take the affirmative on the question "Resolved: That all nuclear tests should be banned."

A 25 cent fee is charged for all debates and this money will go into a foreign student fund. The money from the fund will be used to bring a student from Europe to the MSC campus for the next academic year, according to Mr. Ippolito.

interrogation point --

Question of the week: Who do you think will win the 1960 presidential election?

Rita Savig, Lake Park Freshman, said, "I don't know who will win the election. I just hope he will be the best of the candidates. I also hope that the matter of religion will not sway the people's vote. Personally I prefer Senator John Kennedy because I think he is the best qualified."

Rodney Baker, Breckenridge freshman, "Presidential elections have become contests of personality and popularity. As far as the candidates are concerned, Vice-President Richard Nixon is the best known. I don't think any other candidate can compare with his qualifications in view of his experience while acting as Vice-President."

Dana Braggans, Little Falls freshman, "I don't have any idea who will win but I really think Vice-President Richard Nixon is the best qualified of all the possible candidates. He is not only a fine man, but has had eight years introduction to the presidential duties."

Gary Sherman, Lake Park freshman, "I don't think the Republicans will be elected to office again this year so that leaves Vice-President Richard Nixon out. Perhaps they would have a chance if they had a better choice. I think Senator John Kennedy will be the man to become the next president of the United States."

Well, you gain some and then you lose some. The Owl fraternity gained some Egg pledges and at the same time they lost their baby Owl. It seems the small creature, made from tooth picks in the art department by Owl Dave Strand, met its death at the hands of a cigarette lighter. After the short but impressive cremating ceremony in the frat room the creature was given last rites at its grave under the flagpole in the middle of the circle. Eggs, reportedly, are to water the snowy grave at regular intervals.

The Owl fraternity has a serious side also. The frat is donating a plaque to the new fieldhouse on the MSC campus in honor of Alex Nem-

Dragon Annual still accepts pics

Faculty pictures for the 1960 Dragon Annual will be taken for the last time next week, Wednesday and Thursday, from 2:30 to 5 p.m. in Ingleside.

Seniors who are student teaching and have not received activity sheets have until Monday, Feb. 1 to return them to box 114.

1960 student teaching forms now overdue

All spring and summer graduates planning to teach next fall should have their completed placement papers in the placement office before Jan. 20 according to Dr. T. E. Smith. "It is essential to have these forms in arranging for interviews with superintendents," said Dr. Smith.

School superintendents have already begun their search for teachers for the fall of 1960. Supt. W. J. Murphy of Ely was the first to come for interviews. Letters of request are also being received.

Dr. Neumaier to attend AASA meeting Jan. 26

President John J. Neumaier has accepted an invitation to attend a meeting of the American Association of School Administrators. The purpose of the meeting of education leaders from Minnesota, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Minnesota is the improvement of school administration.

The meeting in the Leamington hotel in Minneapolis begins Tuesday, Jan. 26 with registration and the opening session. On Wednesday the morning session will deal with the major issues in the areas of certification, accreditation, and improvement of programs which prepare administrators. Following each presentation a panel will focus on the major problems concerned.

During the afternoon the representatives from each state will meet together to consider how these issues apply to them. At the final meeting on Thursday each group will present its plans for future activities.

SNEA, three area high school groups meet

MSC Student National Education Association members met with the Future Teachers of America from Frazee, New York Mills, and Perham last night at Perham.

At the meeting the SNEA stressed the importance of good relations between the colleges and the high schools in Minnesota. Members of both groups discussed co-ordinating some activities of the two groups.

Attending the meeting was Mr. Arlo Brown, faculty advisor, and the following MSC students: Henrietta Hannemann, local SNEA president; Don Prior, state treasurer; Bob Steen, Gloria Honrud, Karen Martin, Carol Lokken, Barbara Gates, Theodora Mack and Elaine Roxstrom.

One magazine in search of an author

If you want to write a book some day, you can get into practice by publishing in the next issue of Literary Designs, MSC literary magazine.

Contributions of poetry and prose are already coming into the editorial department.

Students who write stories, poetry, or essays may send their contributions to Literary Designs, Campus Mail Box 212 to be considered for publication.

The annual magazine carries all varieties of writing from esoteric poetry to interested rehashed term papers. Some art work can be considered, and students with line drawings to submit or students who wish to illustrate written work for the magazine should see Dr. William Gillis, M246.

Art films series opens at NDAC this Sunday

Are you left unmoved by Hollywood and TV mediocrity?

The YMCA at NDAC has offered a solution by forming an organization that will show international film classics to interested viewers for 50 cents a showing each Sunday at 2:30 p.m. in NDAC's Minard hall.

The French films "In the Park" and "Children of Paradise" constitute this Sunday's program. All foreign films are to be shown with English subtitles. Further information may be obtained by writing to the NDAC YMCA.

Dragon wrestlers clip Jimmies, 35-5

by Dean Skallerud

The Moorhead State matmen remain undefeated as they notched their fifth victory Saturday by defeating the Jamestown Jimmies 33-5. The Dragons had to forfeit the five points because 123 pound grappler Joe Kan-napel was in the hospital with an inflamed pancreas.

John Budd looked better than he previously has as the 130 pound freshman decisioned Woodie Helm 9-0. Budd had Helm in good position to put the pin on him but failed twice to get the five points.

George Payne showed wrestling fans a smooth exhibition of polished wrestling form as he pinned Fred Sharbono in 3:50. Payne moved well and showed a great deal of skill as he pinned his man with only 50 seconds gone in the second period.

Arlan Mueller secured a pin in 3:30 as he showed signs of improvement and better physical condition. Mueller has been hampered with an ankle injury but it did not seem to bother him as he rolled to an easy victory over Joe Soluis in the 147 pound class. Ron Filipy gained a fall in the final minutes of his match as he pinned Dick Stutsrud with 50 seconds remaining in the contest.

Bill Cronen, a freshman in the 167 pound division looked good as he powered himself to a pin in the second period. It took Cronen 4:00 to pin Don Klostreich as he secured his fourth pin of the season. Cronen is undefeated in five starts.

Ed Arneson, ace 167 pound MSC grappler has moved into the 177 pound class and pinned Roger Shimke in 4:53. Arneson is still zothered with a knee injury that has sidelined him since the Minot contest. Arneson is still having trouble with his knee and it is hurting the smooth style he has shown previously.

Ron Wiger continued undefeated and maintained his perfect record of five pins in five starts. Wiger secured his pin in 4:50 as he defeated Fred Brooks. Wiger has tallied one first period pin, three second period pins and managed a third period pin against Al Latson of Valley City in 6:23.

Don Conn wrestled the optional 191 division for the Dragons as he pinned Pete Bent in the second period with 50 seconds remaining in that period of the exhibition bout. Conn is also posting an undefeated record in five starts. He has two pins and three decisions.

The Dragons will be pointing toward their sixth victory when they meet the University of North Dakota at UND Jan. 22.

Cagers to meet Tech Saturday

by Dean Skallerud

The Dragons will return to their home court Saturday to continue conference play when they meet the Michigan Tech Huskies. The Huskies are 0-2 in conference play while the Dragons are 1-4 as a result of their loss to St. Cloud Monday night.

Al Shogren has been improving greatly for MSC and has looked exceptional in the last two conference games. Shogren notched 16 points against Winona and tossed in 19 against the St. Cloud Huskies Monday night.

At Santwire moved the ball well against Winona and did a stellar job against the Huskies in the second half. Santwire has led the Dragon offensive attack in the last two ball games while at times Rod Zimmerman has looked exceptionally good at center. Zimmerman pushed in 20 points for the Dragons in the St. Cloud tilt.

Michigan Tech definitely is not a top contender for the conference crown by any means, but they are a scrappy club. St. Cloud defeated Tech 64-62 earlier in the season and the Huskies suffered their only other conference loss to the Mankato State Indians.

Moorhead State will undoubtedly start Al Shogren and Jim Nagel at the forwards while Rod Zimmerman will be holding down the center post. Al Santwire and Norm Ophiem will be moving the team from the guard spots. The return of the injured Dale Champ should help the Dragons a great deal. Champ has been sidelined since the Aberdeen game Jan. 4 with a leg injury. It is quite possible that he may be able to play against Michigan Tech Saturday.

Dragons spill Winona, notch first loop win

Moorhead State clinched their first conference win of the season when they handed the Winona State Warriors a 78-66 defeat last Friday. The Dragons won on their home court and lost to the Warriors at Winona. The Winona game was the first home game since the Bemidji State tilt Dec. 16.

The Dragons led the entire contest but their lead was seriously threatened in the final minutes of the game. The Dragons led 66-62 when the Warriors made their final bid led by Herb Espinda. The Warriors pressed Moorhead in an attempt to force the Dragons to throw the ball away. Al Santwire added two free throws to give the Dragons a wider lead as Al Shogren also contributed two gift shots.

Rod Zimmerman played a good first half for MSC as the big center made 12 points but collected four fouls. Zimmerman played a minute in the second half before he drew his final foul.

Al Santwire and Al Shogren led the Dragon offensive attack as Shogren was rough on the boards and contributed 16 points. Al Santwire, junior guard, handled the ball expertly as he moved against the press employed by the Warriors. Norm Opheim turned in a good defensive job and tossed in seven points for the Dragons. Herb Espinda was the top scorer for the Warriors as the 6-2 forward tossed in 17 points as did guard Don Klagge. Tenald Millbrandt controlled the board for the Warriors as the big center picked off 16 rebounds for Winona.

Box Score	FG	FT	PF
Shogren	6	6	4
Mack	4	2	1
Zimmerman	5	2	5
Santwire	7	2	5

Darrel Mack sinks a hook shot as Al Shogren and Tom Carney fight for a rebounding position. The Dragons won their first conference game from the Winona Warriors 78-66.

When a man says, "Brevity is the soul of wit," he means (A) he's about to make a long speech; (B) wise thoughts come in short sentences; (C) "Shut up!"

You're caught in a pouring rain—and you're offered a lift by a pal whose driving is dangerously erratic. Would you (A) tell him you enjoy walking in the rain? (B) say, "Sure—but let me drive"? (C) accept rather than hurt his feelings?

In choosing a filter cigarette, would you pick one that (A) says the filter doesn't count, only the tobacco; (B) is designed to do the best filtering job for the best taste; (C) gives you an enormous filter but very little taste.

When you think for yourself . . . you depend on judgment, not chance, in your choice of cigarettes. That is why men and women who think for themselves usually smoke Viceroy. They know only Viceroy has a thinking man's filter—the most advanced filter design of them all. And only Viceroy has a smoking man's taste . . . the full rich taste of choice tobacco.

*If you have checked (C) in three out of four questions, you're pretty sharp . . . but if you picked (B), you think for yourself!
